DEACON’S CORNER

Dear Brothers and Sisters,
The Ten Commandments make for a simple lesson plan when teaching children how to behave. By contrast, the Sermon on the Mount isn’t for Sunday-school kids. Jesus lays down grown-up challenges with breathtaking clarity. In a similar way, modern church teaching can take our breath away with its demands, as in this statement from Brothers and Sisters to Us: “Today’s racism flourishes in the triumph of private concern over public responsibility, individual success over social commitment, and personal fulfillment over authentic compassion.” Can we let go of the me-first culture and more truly become the Body of Christ?

Blessings, Deacon Ray

ARCHBISHOP’S APPEAL

This year’s Archbishop’s Appeal letters should have arrived at your homes. The 2020 goal for Mission Concepción is $7,493; with at least 50% participation of our parishioners. Your participation in the Appeal is essential in helping form and educate future priests, deacons, and catechists, as well as to provide the basic

THE SIXTH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

In today’s psalm we sing, “Blessed are they who follow the law of the Lord.”

- in what ways do you feel blessed in your commitment to follow God’s commandments?
- Wisdom is a saving gift of the Spirit. Think of a time when Wisdom has revealed herself to you and righted your course.
- Honestly assess how do you use God’s commandments—as ever-present guides for greater love or as tools to judge others?
